Softlinx Announces New SAP FAX Customers

—Three additional Fortune 500 companies select Softlinx as their SAP fax solution—

WESTFORD, Mass.—December 14, 2004—Softlinx Inc, the leading developer of SAP Fax Server solutions, today announced that it has added three additional Fortune 500 companies to its growing list of customers. Included among the new Softlinx customers are Anheuser-Busch, R.J Reynolds and Maytag. Each of these customers chose Softlinx to provide the ability to fax enable their SAP applications with a robust and cost-effective solution. They now have the ability to fax any SAP document from within their SAPoffice environment with instant feedback on the delivery status.

Now serving more than 500 customers worldwide, Softlinx ReplixFax Server software is becoming the standard method for document fax transport at many Fortune 500 organizations. Many have also adopted ReplixFax to better protect sensitive information, which they exchange across public networks as a means of avoiding the potential risks associated with email attachments. The capabilities of Softlinx solution that support a wide variety of server and client system environments has helped make it a popular choice at many companies concerned about security, document integrity and compliance requirements where just about every type of document that shows up is now treated as sensitive and auditable confidential company information.

Joining the growing list of Softlinx customers Anheuser-Busch, Maytag and R.J. Reynolds selected Softlinx to deliver a reliable and secure enterprise solution to handle the mission critical SAP Faxing needs of their massive user base. Softlinx SAP Fax solution not only streamlines the customer's business communications and operating efficiency, but also allows the customers to save on document delivery related expenses.

Softlinx has recognized the unique value it can provide in today's secure document delivery process. Softlinx continues to work closely with small and large organizations alike to improve the end-user's Fax experience. "We are excited that more corporations are choosing Softlinx to address their Application Faxing needs," said Patrick Kelly, Vice President of Sales and Marketing of Softlinx. "We are also pleased to see Softlinx technology becoming a key component of many of these companies and are eager to help make these environments as productive and efficient as possible," he added.

Softlinx has also leveraged its strength in the financial market to quickly address adjacent markets including many Financial institutions, Manufacturing companies and the Healthcare market. Softlinx has global installations at HSBC Bank, Edward Jones and Lazard. Softlinx solutions are also being deployed internally at IBM across the world.
