Softlinx Announces Partnership with Workshare and the Availability of the Oracle UCM Connector for Workshare Professional

The Connector Allows Users to Compare Different Versions of Microsoft Word and Adobe PDF Documents from within the Oracle 10g Release 3 Content Management System for Productivity and Accuracy.

North Billerica, MA (November 11, 2007) –Softlinx Inc., an industry leader in document automation, electronic document delivery and enterprise fax messaging solutions announced today its partnership with Workshare as a Value Added Integrity Partner and the availability of the Oracle UCM Connector for Workshare Professional.

The Oracle UCM Connector for Workshare Professional developed and marketed by Softlinx allows Oracle Universal Content Management users to easily conduct accurate and efficient comparison of different versions of Microsoft Office and Adobe PDF documents with a few simple clicks from within Oracle UCM to fully benefit from Workshare Professional's document control capabilities.

Oracle offers the industry's most integrated and complete content management platform. Oracle Universal Content Management enables users to leverage industry-leading document management, Web content management, digital asset management, and records management functionality to build mission-critical business applications dealing with unstructured information.

Workshare Professional is a comprehensive document control software solution that increases the efficiency by which users create accurate content during a review cycle, easily compare different versions of documents and keep an audit trail of all changes to business critical documents while ensuring accuracy with single master tracking. Providing secure document collaboration, Workshare Professional solves the version chaos problem by bringing document lifecycle management capabilities to Microsoft Office with a complete audit trail of what is happening to documents during a review cycle.

By integrating these two industry leading document control and content management solutions, Softlinx further extends the Oracle users' investment in their Oracle 10g Release 3 Content Management System and delivers the benefits of increased office productivity and document accuracy. The combined solution will also help organizations meet their compliance requirements for both corporate policy and government regulations.

“Many organizations deal with lengthy, complex documents with multiple versions for collaboration among various groups, all stored and managed in Oracle Content Management System. The Oracle UCM Connector for Workshare Professional will help Oracle UCM users improve their productivity and document accuracy with ease.” said Frank Woo, COO at Softlinx. “Being a partner of both Oracle and Workshare, Softlinx is in a unique position to develop and offer a robust, integrated solution connecting these two products to Oracle's rich client base.”

“We are very excited about our partnership with Softlinx that expands our reseller channel and extends our secure document control solution to Oracle's Content Management Suite,” explained Chris Holmes, Vice President of Corporate Development at Workshare. “Enterprises depend heavily on integrated document management systems and the joint product offering from Softlinx and Workshare provides a compelling, integrated solution that introduces a level of robust functionality and workgroup efficiency previously not available to the market.”

The Oracle UCM Connector for Workshare Professional is available now. It is installed as an add-on component to the Oracle 10g Release 3 Content Server, and requires Workshare Professional 5.1 desktop license per each user. Previously Softlinx also introduced the Oracle UCM Connector for Workshare DeltaView 3.0 for existing Workshare DeltaView users.
